Short Chapter apon the Life; and Bervices of THE CAPTURE OF FORT GEORGE.

Cott, after the surrander at Queenstown, was sent to Quebec, thence in a Cartel ship to Boston, and in January 1813 was exchanged and restored to liberty and the service of his country. The compaign of 1813 had opened by the capture of Tork, Upper Canada, now Toronto, and the major made to mourn the loss of the gallant Elke, while it rejoired in the trimpin of our arms.

Immedistally after that event General, then Col. Scott, joined the army at Fort Niagara in the capacity of Adjutant General (Chiof of the staff, of Maj. General Dearborn. Though charged with the responsible staties of chief of the staff, is chaimed the right, and it was conceded to him, of commanding his own regiment when actually engaged with the enemy.

Fort Niagara, on the American side, commanded the entrance from Lake Ontario to the Niagara River, while Fort George was intended for the same service on the British side. The former was in possession of the American, the latter of the British forces. To make himself undisputed master of the entrance to the river, General Dearborn determined to capture Fort George, and an expedition was planned for that purpose. He was in command of some four or five thousand men, and enjoyed the co-operation of Commodore Channey and the morning of the 27th of May, 1813. The

The subarkation was from the shore of Lake Ontario, it there o'clock in the morning, the fleet weighed anchor—at four, the force was all on heard the boats, prepared for the landing. There were six divisions of boats, Col. Scott commanded the first, which contained the advance goard.—This "forlors hope" was led by Scott, who had volunteered for that perilous service. Commodors Channesy had stationed his vessels near the shore, to protect the columns as far as possible from assault at the moment of landing. At 9 o'clock in the unorning, Scott, at the head of the leading division, approached the shore, at a half mile's distance from the village of Newark, now Niagara, and about the same dist: n.e west! from the mouth of the rivor. He landed and formed his line on the beach, under the plunging fire of the enemy, from which he was partially protected.

On the bank above him, the British force, some fifteen hundred strong, were driving up prepared to reptel his advance up the steep bank some 12 feet high. Scott 'rapidly formed his men, and shouted, forward, and soon they were seen scilling the ascent. But pressed by such superior numbers, they were at length borne straggling back.—Dearborn, who was standing on the deck of Chauncey's vessel, watching the conflict through his glass, suddenly saw Scott, while waring his men on, full heavily back down the steep. Dropping his glass he burst into tears, exclaiming—"He is lot 1 He is killed." The next moment however, Scott sprang to his feet again, and shouthowever, Scott sprang to his feet again, and shouthowever, Scott sprang to his feet again, and shouthowever. "He is lost flatis killed." The next-moment however, Sout sprang to his feet again, and shouting to his men." Follow your leader." he, with a rapid and determined step remounted the bank and, unscathed by the volley that was poured in his very face, knacked up with his aword the bank onets leveled at his breast, and atepped on the top. Crowding furiously after, the little band sen up their about around his on the summit. cent in wans, and the pursuit.

The broken British columns fled, pursued by Scott and his brave troops; the garrison of Fort George, lighting slow matches to the magnaines of the Fort, abandoned it and joined the retreating British columns. At this moment, Scott learning that the garrison had fired the magnaines of the Fort, abandoned it and joined the retreating British columns. At this moment, Scott learning that the garrison had fired the magnaines, insteadly returned with two companies to save them. Before he could arrive, one magnaine exploded sending the fragments in every direction. A piece of timber struck him on the broast, and hurled him from his horse; springing to his feet, he shouted to the gate? Rushing on the gate they tore it from its hinges and poured in—Scott was the first main to enter, and ordering the brave Captains Hindiana and Stockton to extinguish the matches, rushed to the ramparts and "with his own hands tore down the British flag." It was at this juncture that the brave Col. Moses Porter, who communded the second, division of boats at the debariation, entered the Fort, and hading Scott already there, said, "Confound your long Leg. Scott, you have got in before me!"

Scott immediately remonited and was soon at the head of his calumn in hot pursuit of the flying enemy. This pursuit was continued for fiverniles and muil a peremptory arder by Gen. Boyd in person, arrested his advance. He had disregarded two similar orders, transmitted by aids decump, saying to them, "Your General does not roow, that I have the enemy within my power, and that in seventy minutes I shall capture his whole force." With the force then under his immediate command he would have made good his promise. With the recall of Scott ended the battle of Fort George.

We beg the Cauadians and other Loco Focos to take notice, that we do not claim that Scott commanded on this occasion, or that he won the battle-but that he led the "forlorn lope."—did the principal part of the fighting, and as he always does, whather in command or not, acted a most conspicuous and gallant part—thus contributing to win victories for his country and honors for himself.—Buffalo Express.

Those having a taste for scurrility, are invited to read a communication in yesterday morning's Serdinel, addressed to the Morning News, and signed by one A. The subject is as little entitled to consideration at our hands as that of the bard who

"Gen. Scott is in training for the Presidency, and if our Democratic leaders commit any serious mistake on so important a measure as the Harbor and River Bill, he will be irresiable. It requires wary walking among Presidential aspirants."

Notwithstanding this caution, the "Democra leaders's in the Senate, headed by WILLIAM R ing, the Democratic candidate for the Vic Presidency, committed the "serious mistake" of defeating the River and Harbor Bill. Had Gen. Punce been a member of the Senate he would Harbor Bill, and this, again of course, recommends have voted, with his Lieutenant, Mr. Krso; against the Bill. Or had he, by any mischance, occupied the Presidential chair, he would (in the language of the Richmond Examiner) have veloed the bill "as sure as there is a sun in heaven!" We submit to the Wisconsin whether, under these circumstances, t is not confirmed in the opinion, disinterestedly expressed more than a year ago, that Gen. Scott will be irregistible?"

The Hight Spirit Awake.

No better evidence can be given of a resolution to take hold and work carnestly for Scott & Oraham during the campaign, than the activity displayed in "circulating the documents." We notice that our exchanges throughout the State are making mention of large accessions to their lists in their several localities; and we take this occasion to thank our friends in the country for the abscrity with which they are responding to our offer to furnish them the Sentinel through the Campaign. Most of the Clubs sent in number from 8 to 20; and we are now sending Ciubs of over 14 to 42 offices, and over 20 to 17 offices.-To one office we send 70 copies, and to three others over 40. So it goes on, and still they come. Orders are constantly reaching us for the Lives or Scort, and we received a supply yesterday of 2500 copies in English, which we can furnish at New York cost and transportation .-We hope to have a supply in German in a few

The prospect is good for a very large circulation of the German Campaign Paper, and letters of inquiry are constantly reaching as in regard to it from this State and Illinois. KERS THE BALL ROLLING! Give the People the documents! AND success is success. They Fear the Light!

No Pieace paper in this State has yet dared to publish the vote in the House of Representa-tives on the River and Harbor Bill and none of them, we venture to predict, will dare to do so.-They tell their readers, indeed, that a Democratic Committee reported, and a Democratic House passed the bill; but they conceal the fact that a majority of the democrats voted apainst the bill and a majority of the Whigs in its favor. Had the fate of this important measure depended upon Democratic votes alone it would have been defeated by TWENTY-TWO majority. If the Which Members only had voted, it would have passed by FORTY-SIX majority. What is still more significant, both the Democratic Members from New Hampshire, Mr. Pierce's own State, reflecting no doubt Mr. Prance's sentiments, voted against the River and Harbor Bill: The Loco Foco press keep all these facts from their readers. They dare not publish the vote. They fear the light. Their hope is to induce their followers to "go it blind" leakers is, indeed, a mere "democracy of words for the "regular nominations." Can the intelliging and phrases"; a mask worn about election times and thrown aside the rest of the year; a bundled raught in such a trup?

To Prove Himself a Font.

Nobody understands this act batter than Mr. Roesler, the great President of a dozen of mided ignorants whom he is pleased to call "The German Scott Volunteers."

As we ENPECTED .- The Madison Democratic gives circulation, with staring capitals, to the Cincienati Enquirer's miserable forgery, relative to the clause of the North Carolina Constitution. leges to persons "who deny the truth of the Profextant Religion.

That Constitution, as we have already stated contains no such clause. Down to 1836 it did contain such a clause, but in that year the Whige. of the gallant old. Whig State, changed the work this day. It is different in New Hampshire. In that old "Democratic" State, in which Gen-Pierce is claimed to be all-powerful, the religious test still stands.

A WEAR INVENTION.—The News of yesterday taxes the Sentinel with endeavoring "to crawl out "of the "awkward position it had placed itself "in by its unmanly attack on Mr. Crawsord." As the Sentinel has made no "attack" of any sort on Mr. Canwrord, but, on the contrary, Liss spoken of him in rather favorable terres, we confess our surprise that the News should stoop to such an "unmanly" and unmitigated talsehood Perhaps the necessities of the case demanded some such unworthy expedient. If so, we "pity the sorrows" of the News.

Democratic Nominations in Cincinnati. Cincinnati, Aug. 4. The Democratic County Convention met to-day and nominated David T. Disney, from the First District, for Congress.

Of course it did. Mr. Disney, with Meser Olds and Busby, also democratic members of the present Congress, voted against the River and them for re-commutation, All of the whig mem-bers from Ohio voted for the Bill.

All but " struck her colors." At the very last State Election the Locos carried the Governor and both branches of the Legislature in North Carolina, on a local issue. Just now, having been severely tried on the question that convulsed the Nation, some of our Tennessee friends are embarrassed. Prominent among these is the Hon. Mr. Gentry, a generous man and devoted Whig, and one who will not, we are sure, remain long in a "false position."

Col. Wm. T. Haskell, a gallant Officer in the Mexican war, and an eloquent Member of a former Congress, who was placed upon the Whig Electoral Ticket, accepts, it will be seen, in a spirit worthy of all commendation:

Albany. Aug. I.

The express train coming east met with a causuality to-day, at Waterloo. In consequence of a misplaced switch, the engine ran off the track, smashed it, together with the tender and language car. One of the passenger cars was literally demolished. A number of passengers were injured three so dangerously that they were left at Waterloo. Mr. Erostus Corning, of this city, had one of his legs injured but was able to reach home in the train.

CHERBING FROM WISCONSIN.—The Albany Atlas has the following intelligence from Wisconsin by letter, dated Milwaukee, July 26, 1852.

The prospects in this State are most cheering for Pierce and King. Of the 11,000 votes cast for Mr. BROWN in 1848, Pierce and King will the ensuing fall receive at least 8,000. Such is the opinion of the unprejudiced and candid of all parties. You may set down Wisconsin as certain for at least 7,000 majority for the Democratic ticket.

We have been cogitating to know who this Mr. Brown is, alluded to, and can come to no other conclusion than it is the great "done brown".—Air Cass. He, however, got some 15 instead of 11,000 votes, and we think it quite pressible Mr. Pierce may got 8,000 out of the number. We are not aware of any law against setting down the state before decision as certain for 7 or 70,000 majority for Mr. Pierce, if any person chooses to set himself down as a great ass by doing it.—Kenosha Telegraph.
